

TRIPLE TRAGEDY AT BARROWS

E. M. BRANDT ADMITS DOING THE SHOOTING MONDAY AFTERNOON

Charles LaFavor, Neighbor, Answers Call for Help and Captures Brandt, After Being Shot at by Him

James S. McPherson and Mrs. J. B. McPherson Killed With Wounds Near Heart, J. B. McPherson Wounded in Leg

Believed crazed by moonshine whiskey and claiming his wife's people were influencing his wife to stay away from him, Ernest M. Brandt, age about 22, admitted to the sheriff and Charles LaFavor at Barrows that he shot and killed James S. McPherson, his wife's father, age about 50; shot and killed Mrs. J. B. McPherson, his wife's grandmother, age about 70; shot through the right leg near the knee, his wife's grandfather, J. B. McPherson, age about 77. The triple tragedy, according to Charles LaFavor, occurred after 3 o'clock Monday afternoon in the yard of the McPherson home in Barrows, the little mining town five miles south of Brainerd.

Shots through the heart killed the two. The old grandmother toppled over in the yard. James McPherson lay at the barn door dead with his pipe still in his hand.

Charles LaFavor's Story

Charles LaFavor was seen at Barrows Tuesday morning and gave this version of the tragedy. He said he heard shots about 3:15 p. m. Monday as he was at the home of Charles Dugan about a block southeast of the McPherson home. The McPherson home is to the left of the main street of Barrows as one enters town and the Dugan home is some distance to the right and off the main street.

LaFavor said he heard cries for help. Jennie Darling, age 14, who lives close to the McPherson home, yelled that somebody was getting murdered and she shouted for help. LaFavor ran home, said he, and got his automatic revolver. He ran across the garden land and towards the McPherson home. He saw Ernest Brandt running towards him. He had on a hat and slicker coat.

At the time LaFavor did not know that Brandt had done anything. As soon as Brandt saw LaFavor he shot at LaFavor with his revolver. LaFavor heard the bullet whistle near him. LaFavor then pulled his own revolver and made Brandt throw up his hands. He marched him to the LaFavor home.

Brandt said he had killed the McPherson family. LaFavor then marched him to Constable Ernest BRANDS (no relative), and then to the store and postoffice. Constable BRANDS formerly lived in Platte Lake township.

Sheriff is Summoned

LaFavor said he then called Sheriff Claus A. Theorin, telling him a man at Barrows had killed some people. He told the sheriff the man who did the killing would talk to him over the telephone.

Brandt then took the telephone and spoke directly to the sheriff, saying:

"Come down to Barrows and get me, I've killed a couple".

Taken to Brainerd

Fearing violence, the Barrows constable, Ernest BRANDS, Justice of the Peace Lester Davis, Charles LaFavor and Nig Behme, the latter a friend of BRANDT, then loaded BRANDT into the Barrows bus, drove to Brainerd and brought him to the county jail.

Charles Dugan

According to LaFavor, Charles Dugan and Mrs. LaFavor ran directly to the McPhersons and according to Mr. LaFavor's story they found James S. McPherson in the little barn dead, with his head towards the manger. A wound was near his heart.

Brandt's Revolver

Brandt's revolver was picked up in the field where he had thrown it when LaFavor got the drop on him.

and made him throw up his hands after shooting at LaFavor. The weapon is a brand new 32 Smith & Wesson, auto ejecting model. It carried five exploded cartridges and one unused one.

LaFavor Explains Shots

As explained by Charles LaFavor he reasoned that the five shots were distributed as follows:

Shot No. 1. Killed instantly James S. McPherson, the wound being over or near the heart.

Shot No. 2. Killed instantly Mrs. Brandt's grandmother, Mrs. J. B. McPherson. She was also shot over the heart and when found, lay on a little hummock in the yard between the McPherson home and barn. She fell over backwards when killed.

Shot No. 3. Wounded J. B. McPherson, aged grandfather of Mrs. Brandt. The bullet, said LaFavor, hit over the breast of the man and was deflected by the watch he carried.

Shot No. 4 hit the old grandfather in the right leg just above the knee. It is reported. The grandfather had gone after his shotgun to defend himself, said LaFavor, loaded it, came out after the grandmother was shot, aimed the gun and it went off accidentally. He ran back after another shell, said Mr. LaFavor, could find none and all the time kept "holler-ing" for help.

Shot No. 5 was fired by Brandt at shooting, said LaFavor. It was at a LaFavor as they met in the field to which Brandt had fled after the point about eight rods from the McPherson home. Brandt then threw the gun away in the field and LaFavor found it and brought it to Sheriff Claus A. Theorin.

After firing the fifth shot, said LaFavor, Brandt threw up his hands when commanded to do so and said to LaFavor: "My God, you're my best friend. I killed 'em all".

In his pockets, said LaFavor, Brandt had cigars and two bottles of some stuff that looked like stuff to make whiskey.

McPherson Family

The McPherson family, said LaFavor, consists of James S. McPherson, (dead) and two children, William age about 18 and Gladys age about 20, who has been married about two years to Brandt. There was also the grandfather and grandmother, Mr. (wounded) and Mrs. J. B. McPherson (killed).

Coroner and Doctors

Coroner Dr. C. A. Nelson was called and was soon on the scene. Dr. L. G. Badeaux came and attended to the wounded man and took him to St. Joseph's hospital where an operation was to follow to remove the bullet from the man's leg.

Inquest Tuesday Afternoon

It was announced by County Attorney.

CONGRESSWOMAN DECLARES WAR ON WOMEN'S LEAGUE

SAYS THEY HAVE BEEN TRYING TO TELL HER WHAT TO DO; TIRE OF DICTATION

(By United Press.) Washington, May 9.—Representative Alice Robertson, of Oklahoma, today declared war to finish on the American League of Women Voters, and other women's political organizations which she declared had been trying to tell her what to do in congress.

"It is war from now on between the League and Women Voters and other like organizations and myself," the only woman in congress said. "They have been trying to boss me long enough. Just because I insist on representing the people of the second Oklahoma district, who sent me to congress instead of cliques of women over the country, they have knocked me. Now I propose to strike back whenever I can and as hard as I can. It is a fight from now on."

Miss Robertson declared the League of Women Voters gave her a "deliberate snub" in not inviting her to the recent Pan-American women congress in Baltimore and in not arranging a meeting between her and Lady Astor, the only woman member of the British parliament, who is now visiting America.

LA FOLLETTE ASKS NEW STEEL MERGER BE PROHIBITED

OFFERS RESOLUTION FOR GOVT. INVESTIGATION; WOULD INVOKE ANTI-TRUST LAW

(By United Press.) Washington, May 9.—Senator La Follette will assail as "new steel trust" a proposed merger of seven steel companies when within a few days he asks the senate to adopt the resolution for government investigation of the alleged merger plan.

La Follette's resolution introduced late yesterday alleges that the Midvale Steel and Ordnance company, and Republic Iron and Steel company, Lackawanna Steel, Inland Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Brier Illinois Steel company and the Steel and Tube Company of America, plan a combination with which the Bethlehem Steel will join later.

It directs the attorney general and the federal trade commission to investigate the merger plan and report to the senate what steps are being taken to protect public interest and state whether they do not believe the merger should be prevented by invoking the anti-trust laws against it.

10 PRISONERS SHOT IN SOUTH CAROLINA PRISON OUTBREAK

Columbia, S. C., May 8.—Several convicts in the South Carolina state penitentiary were shot today by prison guards in putting down a mutiny, according to Chief May of the city fire department, who was called upon to aid the prison authorities.

Chief May said that "between 10 and 12" prisoners were shot. The fire chief said the disorder started when a group of prisoners returning from lunch in the main dining room attacked the guards who were escorting them. The mutiny was put down in short order, he added.

Later information from the institution confirmed the report that a number of convicts had been wounded, but it was said that none was fatally hurt.

Between 300 and 400 prisoners were involved in the attempted uprising, it was said.

CULBERSON WILL ISSUE A STATEMENT ON KIDNAPPING CASE

(By United Press.) Washington, May 9.—Mystery surrounding the love affair of Miss Mary Culberson, daughter of Senator Culberson, of Texas, and Alexander E. Robertson, British war veteran, who alleges attempts have been made to railroad him out of the country because of his wooing of the girl, may be cleared up today.

Indications were that Senator Culberson would issue a statement in reply to Robertson's charges that an attempt was made by Burns detectives to kidnap him because of parental objections to the British marrying Miss Culberson.

Meanwhile, it was definitely learned that Miss Culberson, whose whereabouts the last few days have been considerable of a mystery, is at the apartment of her parents here.

Robertson, after he and Miss Culberson left the University of Texas, where the romance started, kept wooing the senator's daughter by telegraph and telephone.

Telegrams arrived hourly at the Culberson home in a fashionable apartment here. These were intercepted with long distance calls from Austin, Texas. Some of these love messages were said to have been sent collect.

Places Case Before Embassy

Washington, May 9.—Alexander E. Robertson, British war veteran, who alleged an attempt was made to kidnap him and railroad him out of the country because of his love for a senator's daughter—Miss Mary Culberson of Texas—today placed his case before British officials here in a three hour conference at the embassy.

All of his movements were surrounded by unusual secrecy and mystery. Robertson escaped from reporters and photographers by a wild dash from the embassy garage in a speedy roadster belonging to one of the embassy.

CAVE MAN SLAYER OF LILLIAN WHITE IS THOUGHT BLUEBEARD

MANY LOVE LETTERS FROM WESTERN GIRLS FOUND IN HIS CAVE

(By United Press.) Haverstraw, N. Y., May 9.—Belief that the cave man who killed pretty Lillian White on a lonely mountain top near here was a bluebeard who had lured other girls to his primitive trysting place, was expressed by police today. This theory was based upon bundles of ardent love letters from girls all over the country found in the cave.

Many of these love letters were from girls in the middle west. Numerous notes upbraiding the cave man for his neglect and for his attentions to other women were found.

"Betty," a girl of a middle western city, wrote: "When are you coming again to love us?"

It was decorated with many crosses indicating kisses sent to the many sided lover of the mountain cave.

Other "Betty" letters upbraided the mountain dweller for neglect in answering love notes.

That some of these letter writers have been lured to the secret cave and may have met a fate similar to Lillian's was given credence when police learned from a farmer friend of the cave man that he openly boasted of love affairs with many women.

The cave man was interested in the occult, was highly educated, and fanatically religious, police say after reading through many books found in the cave. His mystic words concerning the occult, police believe, led them on in their intrigue in the mountain cave.

At two places the proprietors and bartenders were arrested and at the other two the man in charge was hauled off to jail. What evidence was found was not revealed, but it was also taken to the jail. No announcement was made as to when the prisoners would be arraigned.

Attempts had been made on a number of occasions previously to locate suspected intoxicating liquors, but as fast as officers would appear at one resort the others would be warned by telephone.

Saturday night telephone connection with the suspected places was not allowed while the search was in progress.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY AT BARROWS

ney S. F. Alderman that an inquest would be held at D. E. Whitney's undertaking rooms at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

The McPherson family, it is reported, formerly lived in the vicinity of Little Falls, coming to Barrows about a year ago.

Brandt's Story

Brandt, in his story to the sheriff said he had formerly worked at the tie plant in Brainerd and when out of work went to Minneapolis. He started drinking there, he told the sheriff. He returned and when he stopped at St. Cloud, Sunday night, he told the sheriff, he was chased out of town by the police. He came to Brainerd Monday, he told the sheriff, and in the afternoon took a taxi out to Barrows, driving out with Pete Peterson.

Arriving near the McPherson home, he got out and told Peterson to wait for him down town in Barrows. Peterson waited a long time and then returned to Brainerd without him.

Arriving at the McPherson house where his wife Mrs. Brandt was staying, Brandt in his story to the sheriff, said the elder McPherson abused him, called him names and went after him with a pitchfork.

"Then I started shooting," said Brandt to the sheriff.

He admitted drinking on the way to Barrows.

He was lodged in the county jail at Brainerd and after being washed up fell asleep on his jail cot.

Brandt, according to Sheriff and Mrs. Claus A. Theorin, freely admitted the shooting and to the sheriff's wife stated he wished he had also shot himself.

Brandt said he loved his wife and wanted her with him. When brought into the county jail, he said: "I've done it. I guess I'll take my medicine."

He asked the sheriff not to let anybody hurt him. He fell into heavy sleep and was not disturbed by any one during the night or morning.

Registered for Work

On Monday Brandt went to the Chamber of Commerce and registered for work, leaving the data with Secretary O. J. Bouma. He gave his residence as Barrows, telephone address was "call Park Theatre World War Veterans"; age as 24; married; children none; occupation foreman; but willing to do any kind of work; formerly employed by Bissel Lumber company and Tie Plant at Brainerd.

Family Makes Statement

Clare McPherson, age 37 and a widower, made a statement for the McPherson family when seen Tuesday morning. He is a brother of James S. McPherson (dead). He was working out on 13th street, seven miles from his home, when the tragedy occurred. He used to have charge of road grading work.

He heard about the tragedy when Ed. Gallant came after him Monday afternoon. Gallant told him Brandt had killed his brother and mother (Mrs. Elizabeth McPherson) and that his father, J. B. McPherson, had been wounded.

James McPherson, said Clare, was 52 years old, carpenter by trade, and a widower. His children are William age 18; Gladys (wife of Brandt) age 21; Lucille age 16; Myrtle age 12 and Lester age 10.

The children of the aged couple, J. B. McPherson (wounded) and Mrs. Elizabeth McPherson (dead) are J. B. McPherson Jr., age 50, of Port Ripley; Mrs. Agnes Fiske age 47 of Monticello; Walter McPherson, age 40, of Chaska; Clare age 37 of Barrows; Mrs. Myrtle Johnson, age 32, of Pond du Lac, Wis.; and Mrs. Mar-

Jory Glazier, age 30, of Melfort, Saskatchewan, Canada.

Clare said he got into Gallant's car and drove home, arriving there at Barrows about 5:30 p. m. Monday. At home he found Coroner Nelson and Dr. G. I. Badeaux. The bodies of his brother and mother still lay where they had fallen.

His brother James S. McPherson lay dead in the barn.

The body of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth McPherson, lay on her side in the yard about half way between the house and the barn.

His father, J. B. McPherson sat in a chair in the house, his leg bandaged. He had been shot at twice by Brandt. All that saved him from a shot in the heart like the other two had received was the watch in grandfather's top pocket of his overalls. It deflected the first bullet.

Gladys is over 21 years old, said Clare, and was married to Brandt about two and half years ago. They have no children.

The old grandfather is hard of hearing. Brandt and James S. McPherson went to the barn and it was there the latter was shot by Brandt. The grandmother heard the shot and she ran to the barn. As Brandt came out, he shot her. It was then the grandfather sprang to the protection of the grandmother and faced death. As related by Clare the grandfather loaded an old shotgun and attempted to use it, the gun being accidentally discharged. He ran for another shell and was shot by Brandt in the leg.

At the Undertakers

At the undertaking rooms of D. E. Whitney are the bodies of the two killed. James S. McPherson is a spare built man.

The grandmother still has the curl papers in her hair and gold ear rings are in her ears.

Bullet is Extracted

At St. Joseph hospital Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock surgeons located the bullet in the grandfather's leg and extracted it. If no complications set in, he may recover. However his advanced age, 77 years, may make his condition serious.

Came From Little Falls

The McPherson family came from Little Falls to Barrows in September, 1921. They had previously lived in Little Falls 12 years.

Military Training

Brandt, said Clare McPherson, had military training which accounted for his skill in using weapons. Before coming to the United States he was a member of the Fort Gary Horse of Winnipeg, Canada.

Talked With Gladys

Brandt, said Clare, talked with his wife, Gladys, before the shooting and there were no arguments.

"Brandt, as far as I can find out," said Clare, "never said a word to grandmother, but fired point blank and killed her. That was the first grandfather knew of any shooting, as he cannot hear well. He saw Brandt shoot grandmother. The old man started after Brandt with a pitchfork and was shot in the breast. After he was shot in the leg so far as I can find out, he got the shotgun. It was discharged accidentally. He then searched for another shell."

Clare stated what he believed had caused the estrangement between Brandt and his wife and why the girl wife made her home with father and grandparents.

"Brandt was at the McPherson home a week ago Sunday for his clothes and was also there last Wednesday," said Clare.

Special Grand Jury

A special grand jury may be called in the case, it is reported from the court house.

The inquest was set for 2 p. m. on Tuesday and witnesses were summoned in the morning.

Brandt Silent Tuesday

Brandt talked freely when brought to the county jail Monday evening and begged the protection of the sheriff.

On Tuesday morning, when he got up, he changed his tactics and claimed he did not know anything about the shooting.

J. H. PATTERSON DIES; CASH REGISTER HEAD

Atlantic City, May 9—Arrangements were made yesterday to take the body of John H. Patterson, founder and chairman of the board of directors of the National Cash Register company, to his home at Dayton, Ohio, for burial.

Mr. Patterson's valet was the only companion when the manufacturer was stricken with heart disease while on a train bound for this city in search for health.

Mr. Patterson was 77 years old.

He was seated in a chair chatting with his valet, when as the train passed through Kirkwood, Camden county, he suddenly fell unconscious. Dr. T. T. Trudeau of Saranac Lake, N. Y., who was in the next parlor car, was summoned and tried to revive him, but all restoratives failed. He had been a sufferer from a chronic heart malady.

Patterson, who started life as a farm hand near Dayton, and established the biggest business of its kind in the world on the land that he had plowed as a boy, retired as president of the National Cash Register company on

A chiropractor would rather get a fever case than anything else. Why? Because it is a common thing for fevers to break up after one or two adjustments have been given.

WHAT IS "AMERICAN VALUATION?"

THE AMERICAN valuation plan seems to have become "the spectacular storm center" of tariff discussions. "Now the question is," says the Literary Digest, "what is American valuation, what difference does it make what kind of valuation we have, and why are they talking so much about it in Congress?" The Digest has a two-column editorial on the subject, from which we will extract only the following short paragraph showing briefly how each plan works:

"Take, for instance," says the Digest, "a camera on which the duty in the Senate bill is 20 per cent. It costs $4 to buy in Germany, where wages are low, whereas an equally good camera made by highly paid workmen in an American factory would sell for $20. Under the present valuation plan the duty would be 20 per cent of $4, or 80 cents; but under the new American valuation plan the duty would be 20 per cent of $20 or $4."

Of course, in the case of imported articles costing the importer more than articles of the same kind produced in this country, the American valuation plan would reduce tariff duties. Roughly speaking that is how the new valuation scheme would affect tariff rates.

So much for the Digest's explanation. But here is a comparison of our own. With the German mark (par value 23.8) worth only 1 cent or less, and with German goods produced at a very much lower cost than similar British goods, consider a tariff of 30 per cent based as now on the German and British valuations of export goods. If the British value of an export intended for our market, as expressed in our money, is $100, say, the 30 per cent duty under our present system adds $30 to it in this country. If the German value is $50 the 30 per cent duty adds $15 to it or only one-half the duty in dollars which the British article must pay to get into this market.

But if the value of a similar American article were $110 in our own market and the 30 per cent duty were applied on that basis, according to the American valuation plan, both the British article and the German article would pay the same amount of American dollars as duty. The British article might pay $3 more duty than it now pays; but the German article would pay $18 more duty than it now pays.

The object of the new plan, in a nutshell, is to protect the American manufacturer and the workingman from competition with cheap European labor.

WOMEN'S CLUBS ACTIVE

THE CLUBWOMEN of Minnesota hold their annual district conventions this month and next. At the meetings this year the principal subjects being studied and discussed are ways toward better educational and recreational opportunities for rural and town boys and girls, better laws for women and children, particularly those who become wards of the state, and better home and community conditions.

The women are very much interested in these subjects. Their interest does not stop at saying there should be a school within reasonable distance for the boy and girl to attend. It, indeed, goes much further than that, and attempts to find out what is the best instruction to give the children in the school and what this education will help them to be in later years. The women, it will be observed, are very thorough in everything they undertake.

BETTER DAYS FOR FARMERS

W. L. CAVERT, farm management specialist of the University of Minnesota, says a wagon load of farm products can be traded for more shoes, bricks and other commodities today than a few months ago, but it still has less bartering power than before the World war. There must be more deflation of the commodities a farmer wants to buy, or farm products must advance further before farmers will be in the purchasing market in any strength, he says. Possibly both movements will take place to some extent and adjustment meet on a new economic level, he added.

However, Mr. Cavert expresses the opinion that better days seem to be in store for the farmers who have held fast to their usual lines of production and have done their best to meet a difficult situation by economy and hard work.

TREES FOR TRUNK ROADS

THE STATE FORESTRY department expects to have the state trunk road system lined with trees within the next few years. The demand for trees has exhausted the available supply, the initial shipment of 30,000 trees, purchased in Ohio, soon being exhausted. The walnut trees are not adapted to the climate of Northern Minnesota, and arrangements are now being made to supply northern districts with trees from Cloquet, Itasca park and other points. Trees are furnished upon request of any organized body which will guarantee to care for them and work under the direction of the Forestry officials.

It is understood that Odin Halden of Duluth intends to resign shortly as a member of the State Tax Commission, having filed for the nomination of Auditor of St. Louis county. Mr. Halden was for 24 years chief accounting officer of St. Louis county, and for six years previous was chief deputy. He was defeated for re-election four years ago and now hopes to "come back."

THE TENDENCY of the Nonpartisan League to make the big end of their fight this year against Senator Kellogg is plainly indicated in editorials appearing in League-controlled papers. An effort is now being made for the thorough organization of the Red River Valley in support of Shipstead, the League candidate.

HERE IS WHAT ONE FARMER SAYS ABOUT GOOD ROADS

Roads are of such importance that they may be compared to our lives; they are both good and bad; they are smooth, even, level, wide and full; they are hilly, narrow and winding dangerous, shadowy and bright; and they show the effects of environment and care, even as we. They are the means of our life, for over them passes the food which must keep the people of the cities alive.

Without roads cities could not survive, and country folk would be without many of the present necessities, comforts, and luxuries of life, which they are now able to enjoy. They are the connecting link between the city business man, the manufacturer and the farmer, dairyman, the producer of food. They alone make it possible for both country and city to live up to our present standard of living and they will be largely responsible for any rise which may take place in that standard. Who, then, can place a value on roads, and who is great enough to say what their true service to mankind is? Can any man picture a country or a land without roads?

A good man sets an example; a good road is like wise, an example; and as we have too few good men, so have we too few good roads. Only when we find a travelable road going past every farm, through every village and city, will it be time to cease talking good roads.

Talk good roads—maintain good roads—economize on everything except good roads.

BRAINERD WAS SHUT OUT ON SUNDAY

Imported and Professional Players of St. Cloud Team Too Much for Brainerd Simon Pure Amateurs

POSTON STRUCK OUT SEVEN MEN

Brainerd's Next Game is With Pine River at Pine River Next Sunday, May 14th

Playing a team that was made up of imported players, Brainerd went down to defeat at St. Cloud yesterday 11 to 0. Taking into consideration the fact that St. Cloud is an all-salaried team, the local boys made a wonderful showing. Lefty Henry St. Cloud southpaw pitched as good a game yesterday as he has ever bailed, striking out 16 of the local players. While St. Cloud made eleven runs only five of these were earned. Poston, the Brainerd pitcher, hurled a very pretty game, and to him is due a lot of credit for the local boys' showing. Belfy, playing center field made one of the prettiest catches of the day, when he speared a Texas leaguer, that was ticketed for three bases, when he made a one-handed catch in deep center field. With a little more practice, the Brainerd club will be able to take on any of the fastest teams in Northern Minnesota. Oppgaard, registered the first home run, for St. Cloud ball park when he hit one over the fence in the fifth inning.

The ball players of Brainerd will hold a meeting this evening in the Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 when all players and fans will get together and lay plans for next Sunday's game at Pine River. ## HIGHWAY BUILDING SEASON OPENS BIG

Jobs for 15,000 Men on State and Local Road Projects This Year, Estimate

HIGHWAY OFFICIALS ESTIMATE

Trunk Route Maintenance Work Already Well Advanced—Construction Operations Starting

Around Brainerd and in all other sections of Minnesota, highway improvements are being started under the second year program of the Babcock plan on trunk routes and by county and town officials on the so-called local roads.

Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, has placed under contract for construction this season 626 miles of gravel-surfacing, 123 miles of paving and 336 miles of permanent grading on the trunk system, including county reimbursement projects carrying state department approval, also many new bridges, miles of guard-rails, tiling and minor improvements. This work, engineers estimate, will employ about 5,000 men through the construction season.

Local highway authorities over the state, having available double the amount of money that is provided for state operations, will carry on work taking approximately 10,000 additional men, it is estimated. So that approximately 15,000 men, hundreds of teams, scores of construction outfits made up of big steam shovels and other machinery, will be engaged this year in the big undertaking to pull Minnesota out of the mud.

The first week in May has been looked forward to by road contractors in which to start construction operations, following weeks of preparation made possible by early lettings of contracts. Many road-building outfits are on the move and payrolls are longer. Forced by sharp competition to bid low for work, the contractors are planning to push work to early completion to avoid possible losses, according to reports to the highway department.

Patrolmen and other maintenance forces have been out on the trunk routes since April 1 in many instances to speed the draining and drying of the roads and drag them smooth after the spring thaws. The regular amount is set aside for maintenance work this year, although trunk highway revenues are less than expected and highway officials give assurance that results in this department will be fully up to those of the first year.

GOOD TRADE UP TO ORGANIZED LABOR, SAYS MACKINTOSH

WORKER IS 13 1/2 PER CENT BET-
TER OFF THAN IN 1919, WORLD
ADVERTISERS' PRES. SAYS

Minneapolis, May 9.—Upon organized labor depends the restoration of good business, Charles H. Mackintosh, president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, told members of the Advertising club of Minneapolis and the Civic and Commerce association, at a joint luncheon in the West hotel. Mr. Mackintosh is making a tour of 234 advertising clubs in 42 states and has addressed more than 50,000 persons.

"As soon as organized labor understands and accepts the fact," said Mr. Mackintosh, "that its 20 per cent cut in wages means, in proportion to the increased buying power of the dollar, an advance of 13 1/2 per cent, we will have better times."

Mr. Mackintosh explained that the buying power of the dollar has risen 33 1/2 per cent since 1919, while wages have been reduced only 20 per cent. The laboring man, therefore, is 13 1/2 better off today than he was in 1919, he declared. Failure to accept this situation, he said, which has resulted in the coal strike and allied strikes, has had deplorable effects on business of the country.

Furthermore, Mr. Mackintosh said, the idea should be dispelled that prices are falling rapidly and that today is a poor time to purchase. Prices will continue to fall, he said, but the decline will extend over 10 to 25 years and will be so gradual as to make the advantage of waiting for lower prices negligible.

"In the country's history," Mr. Mackintosh said, "there have been three peaks of high prices. One in 1812, another in 1865 and the last in 1919. In all three prices advanced 250 per cent above normal and the periods of advance in prices extended over 25 years. In the first two it took 25 years to reach normal. We therefore have every reason to believe the present decline of prices will extend over 10 years, and in the opinion of many it will extend over 25 years."

One hopeful phase, Mr. Mackintosh said, is the weeding out of inefficiency in business. In the war, he said, with a constantly rising market, it was possible for inefficient men to succeed and many efficient men became slack in their efforts. Today, with business tightened, the inefficient men are failing at the rate of 2,000 to 3,000 a month, he said, and every businessman finds it necessary to put forth his best efforts. The effect is healthful for the businessmen, he said, as they have to learn to do business on a falling market.

AMUSEMENTS

DOUGLAS MACLEAN'S NEW PIC- TURE, "ONE A MINUTE"

The village drug store, the trade mart for everything from phonographs to lollypops, has been entertainingly exploited in "One a Minute" Douglas MacLean's latest Paramount Ince comedy, which is now playing at the Lyceum theatre.

The store is a study in small-town trade versatility. Everything within the druggist's province, and many things outside, are displayed in characteristic disarray, while in the windows, draped with red and green paper streamers are enormous displays of "Knight's 99," the miraculous panacea for all human ailments upon which hinges the main action of the story.

The picture tells of the vicissitudes of Jimmy Knight, the leading role portrayed by MacLean, when he places on the market a miraculous medicine which as is disclosed in the final scenes of the picture, really possesses curative powers.

"One a Minute" a successful stage success by Fred Jackson, was adapted to the screen by Joseph Franklin Poland. Marian DeBeck, who recently entered filmdom from the New York stage, appears in the leading feminine role, while Victor Potel, Andrew Robson, Frances Raymond and Graham Pettie assume important characterizations.

The local pictures of Brainerd and its people made a big hit with the public last night and is going to be shown again tonight at the Lyceum in addition to their regular program.

"THE THREE MUSKETEERS"

For the first time since he became a screen actor, Douglas Fairbanks spent a cold million dollars in order to make "The Three Musketeers," which is to be shown at the Lyceum tomorrow and Thursday, and which has proven to be the film sensation of the picture world, and which was adapted by Edward Knoblock from Alexander Dumas' famous novel, and directed by Fred Niblo.

Never before in the history of the motion picture industry was a photograph produced on so lavish a scale as was this forthcoming Fairbanks offering. Nearly a hundred thousand dollars was spent on costumes alone, and more than half that amount was expended in the building of exterior sets, not counting the ship and the pier which cost a small fortune besides.

The payroll for the stars and players was more than three times as heavy for this picture as it was on any previous Fairbanks film, owing to the fact that it was the aim of the star-producer to get the best talent available, regardless of cost.

More women play with Doug in important roles in "The Three Musketeers" than ever before appeared with him in any feature. Marguerite De La Motte, Mary MacLaren and Barbara La Marr, all stars in their own right, who are among the highest paid photoplayers on the screen, take the leading parts.

All told, there are one hundred and sixteen persons in the cast not counting the extras, and the weekly payroll for "The Three Musketeers" reached the staggering figure of over $50,000 a week. It is in 12 reels and only one show will be given each night, at 8 o'clock and a matinee at 2:15.

GIRL WANTS MAN WHO WILL RULE OVER HER

Glen Masters had worshipped and obeyed Indiana Stillwater in everything since childhood and many times had pleaded with her to marry him. The girl was fond of him as a companion and friend, but could not feel about him as he did about her. She felt that the man to make her happy would be one who would dominate her and never yield to her foolish whims. Glen loved her faults because they were hers. She would never eliminate them as his wife.

The Rt. Hon. Thurston Ralph, Viscount Canning, made an altogether different impression upon Indiana. Here was a man, she decided, who could be depended upon to risk angering her for her own good, and would discourage foolish conduct instead of humoring her. In agreeing to become Thurston's wife, she made him promise never to permit her to behave in a foolish fashion.

As Thurston's wife, she put his promise to a harder test than he had ever looked forward to, but he kept it. In the end Indiana told him, "I knew you would keep your promise, but I didn't think you would keep it so hard."

The situation arises in "Her Lord and Master," an intensely interesting comedy drama by Martha Morton, visualized as an Alice Joyce Vitagraph production. It will be shown at the New Park for the last time tonight.

"Doug" Fairbanks who appears in the famous Dumas novel, "The Three Musketeers," at the Lyceum tomorrow and Thursday. It is in 12 reels and only two shows each day will be given, at 2:15 and 8:00.

UNUSUAL WOMAN AS FILM HEROINE

From the top strata of English society to the lowest depths of the miniature underworld in South African cities goes the story of "Wild Honey," a Universal-Jewel attraction starring Priscilla Dean, which comes to the New Park on Wednesday and Thursday.

"Wild Honey" was written as a novel by Cynthia Stockley and filmed at Universal City under the direction of Wesley Ruggles. Supporting the star are such widely known players as Robert Ellis, Wallace and Noah Beery, Raymond Blathwayt, Percy Challenger, Lloyd Whitlock, Helen Raymond, Landers Stevens, Carl Stockdale, C. J. Frank and Harry De Roy.

"CAMERON OF THE ROYAL MOUNTED"

In "Cameron of the Royal Mounted" the newest Hodgkinson release, which will be shown at the New Park on Friday and Saturday, all followers of the motion picture will find everything which they demand in screen entertainment. First of all there is the story which is as fast-moving as one could possibly be and ranging from melodrama of the deepest dye to tender love passages perfectly handled.

And what a cast it is! Irving Cummings, who plays "Raven," was never more forcefully dramatic, while Gaston Glass, the juvenile whose work contributed so largely to the success of "Humoresque," will win many new followers by his splendid playing of the role of "Cameron."

MINE LEADER ON TRIAL FOR TREASON

(By United Press.)
Charleston, W. Va., May 9.—William Blizzard, young miner leader charged with treason, today was again linked with the march of the army of miners on Logan and Mingo counties last summer. Frank Mitchell, testifying for the state, charged that Blizzard exhorted the miners on the battle line to "go get 'em." Blizzard said this, however, after he had discovered a bomb near the firing line, Mitchell said.

"Now, go get 'em," Blizzard cried, apparently enraged at the finding of the bomb.

New Sense of Flight.
Flying requires the development of a new special sense, the sense of flight. This sense is not inborn; it may be developed, but cannot be created all at once. There are men of splendid physical equipment and intelligence who could never make more than passable aviators. A good aviator should feel entirely at ease in space.

He should be able to recognize at once the slightest trouble with his machine in any one of the three dimensions of space. He should react to the invisible movements of the atmosphere. The capacity to feel or sense conditions in the air and to respond properly with precise muscular contractions comes only through training, but these are based on normal physiological bodily conditions that are not possessed by all men.

Fond Hearts Parted.

My earliest love affair, writes a correspondent, was no funny matter at all. In fact I cannot think of it even now without an ache in my heart. I was only fourteen years and he three years my senior. All might have been well, but—parental objections. We were parted, to drift further apart as the years rolled on. I am married now, but not to my first and tenderest love!
